INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY
EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB00/00208

Re Item I

Basis of the report

The amendments filed with the letter dated 4.12.2000 introduce subject-matter which extends beyond the content of the application as filed, contrary to Article 34(2)(b) PCT. The amendments concerned are the following:

Claim 11:

The basis given on page 6 lines 13 - 15 refer only to a glove. Therefore, it is an extension of protection to claim such burstable sachets for other articles than a glove.

Claim 12:

The basis given on page 2, line 28/29 refers only to a 75 µm ethyl methyl acrylate film. Therefore, only such a material could be claimed as being pliable and having a soft feel.

Therefore, this report has been established without claims 11 and 12.

Re Item III:

The subject-matter of claim 10 is directed to a therapeutical method of treatment (Article 34 (4) (a) (i) and Rule 67.1 (iv) PCT). Therefore it relates to a subject-matter which does not require an international preliminary examination. The claim alleges to refer to a device, however, no device characterisation is present and only the reference to the use in therapy has been specified. Therefore, it should be treated as a claim referring to the use in therapy.

Re Item V:

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US-A-4 178 924 (BAXTER SAMUEL H) 18 December 1979 (1979-12-18)

D2: US-A-3 741 203 (LIMAN P) 26 June 1973 (1973-06-26)

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY
EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB00/00208

The present application does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(2) PCT because the subject-matter of Claims 1 to 4, 6 and 8 is not new in respect of prior art as defined in the regulations (Rule 64(1)-(3) PCT).

The present application does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(3) PCT because the subject-matter of Claims 5, 7 and 9 does not involve an inventive step (Rule 65(1)(2) PCT).

Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art with respect to claim 1, discloses all features thereof, namely

a device (title)
which comprises an enclosure of a plastics material (column 2 line 44/45), having an opening at an end thereof (figures 1/2) with fastening means to enable the opening to be closed around a limb or stump with an affected part contained within the enclosure (figures 1/2) and including a fluid-absorbent material within the enclosure (moisture absorbing material, column 3 line 7/8).

The subject-matter of claim 1 is thus known from D1 and it is not novel.

Document D2 also discloses all the features of claim 1, see particularly figures 6, 7 and 10.

Dependent Claims 2 to 9 do not appear to contain any additional features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, add anything novel or involve an inventive step for the following reasons:

The subject-matter of claim 2 is known from D1, see column 2 line 44 - 47.

The subject-matter of claim 3 is known from D1, see column 2 line 44 - 47.

The subject-matter of claim 4 is known from D1, see column 3 line 50/51.

The subject-matter of claim 8 is known from D1, see figures 1/2.

The subject-matter of claim 6 is known from D1, see column 3 line 5 to 8.

The subject-matter of claim 5 and 7 refers to the permeability and the nature of the wall. Due to the availability of such materials it is within the choice of the skilled person to use these materials within the design of such an article.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY

International application No. PCT/GB00/00208

The subject-matter of claim 9 refers to a non-slip sole and is not related to the inventive concept of the application.

Re Item VI:

Although document DE-U-298 16 198 does not constitute prior art within the meaning of Rule 64.1 (b) PCT, it appears to disclose all the features of claims 1 and 7 to 10. No check has been made as to whether the priority of this prior application has been validly claimed.

Re Item VII:

To meet the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the documents D1 and D2 should be identified in the description and the relevant background art disclosed therein should be briefly discussed.

Reference signs in parentheses should be inserted in the claims to increase their intelligibility, Rule 6.2(b) PCT. This applies to both the preamble and characterising portion.

11. A device according to claim 10, for use in treating burns, which includes a burstable sachet within the enclosure, the sachet containing an agent suitable for the treatment of burns.
12. A device according to any preceding claim, wherein the plastics material is 5 pliable and has a soft feel.
